Big day coming

The big day that we have all been waiting for will soon be here. That day is a red letter day and it's May 25 which will be Haliburton County Centennial Day at Ontario Place.

To make this day a memorable one we urge all citizens of Haliburton to make it a point to go to Toronto and join in with the many activities that are planned for that day at Ontario Place.

We sincerely hope that it will be a day when all people from Haliburton County will be together as one big happy family to help celebrate our 100th birthday.

Transportation to Toronto will be no problem as Travelways Coaches will leave and return to the following places in the County. Cardiff, Wilberforce, Gooderham, Dorset, Carnarvon, Minden and Haliburton. Tickets are available at each township office and the Chamber of Commerce. They must be picked up before May 18.

The senior citizens will get a real big break. Through the generosity of all the township councils they are subsidizing their residents (65 years and over). The cost of the return trip to them will be $2.00 (yellow ticket).

The price for adults and students will be $6.00 per person. This will include return coach fare and admission to Ontario Place.

Children six years and under free. Bus departure time 9 a.m. It will leave Ontario Place around 9 p.m.

The stage has been set and everything is ready to go. It's up to us now to be in Toronto on May 25 to help celebrate this grand old County's centennial. The success of this depends on you. Don't let us down.

Weekend accidents cause $4,400 damage

One two-vehicle accident on Friday night, and three single-car accidents on Saturday, totalling $4,400 in damages provided a busy weekend for the Minden Detachment of the O.P.P.

Highway 35 north of Moore's Falls bridge was the scene of a two vehicle accident on Friday evening about 10:25 p.m. which sent Ernest A. Hale of Newmarket to Red Cross Hospital in Minden with concussion and other serious injuries.

According to the OPP the Hal vehicle was southbound on Highway 35 negotiating a curve to the right when it crossed into the northbound lane. The second vehicle, driven by Dale C. McKnight of Schomberg, was northbound when it swerved into the southbound lane and collided head on with the Hale vehicle.

The Hale vehicle came to rest upright on the east shoulder facing south, while the McKnight vehicle came to rest upright on the east shoulder facing east. There was $500.00 damage done to the McKnight vehicle.

This accident was investigated by Const. M. W. Hickey.

Highway 519, 1.3 miles south of Gelert, was the scene of a single-car accident at 6:45 a.m. on Saturday morning when according to the OPP report a vehicle driven by Paul V. Graham of Port Credit rounded a curve to the left, and the driver apparently fell asleep.

The car entered the east ditch and rolled over. Although there were no injuries, the car sustained $900.00 damage. Provincial Constable W. L. Clendenning investigated this accident.

On Saturday afternoon about 2:30 p.m. a car driven by Rebecca McCleaneghan of Oshawa sustained $400.00 damage when travelling on highway 35 north of Gull River Bridge. According to the OPP the McLeneghan car was northbound passing another northbound car when, due to the heavy dust and loose gravel, the driver lost control and slid off the west shoulder in to west ditch. Constable B. J. Connelly investigated this mishap.

On Saturday afternoon, at approximately 3:50 p.m., Constable R. W. Pearson was called to investigate a single-car accident north of the south junction and Minden cut-off. According to the OPP Dudley S. Young, 70, of Islington, apparently fell asleep at the wheel of his southbound vehicle, veered across the northbound lane into the east ditch, and struck an embankment. The driver of this car suffered cuts, and there was $600.00 damage to the car.

Political organizers laying plans

With only 57 more days to go to the July 8 federal election, Victoria-Haliburton party organizers are moving quickly to lay plans.

First to come up with a nomination meeting date is the riding's Progressive Conservative Association. It has been set for May 29 at the Lindsay Collegiate, association president Murray Agnew of Wilberforce, disclosed Friday. Registration will begin at 7:30 p.m. and platform speeches at 8:30, he said.

Campaign manager A. E. (Bert) Hick announced that the location of campaign headquarters for the party will be in the former Carew Lumber Co. offices, William St. North at Francis St. It will open Monday.

Only declared candidate to date is William C. Scott, incumbent PC member of parliament for the riding. Speaking from his Ottawa office on Thursday, Mr. Scott said, "I'm still available to my constituents 24 hours a day and I've never refused a phone call yet from anyone having a problem to deal with." Mr. Scott first entered federal politics when he was elected in 1965.

New Democratic Party organizers are also busy laying plans for the campaign. Ben Howlett says an executive meeting had been called for Friday at which time certain plans were finalized -- nomination meeting date, location of campaign headquarters, etc.

Liberal Party Association president Jim Flynn said Thursday his executive is for 1974, in a developing ex-meeting this weekend to make plans.

There is still no indication of who will carry the Liberal colours but it is anticipated that Maurice Windatt will again be the NDP candidate.

Police want to see you

May 12 to May 18, is police week in Canada. May I take this opportunity, as commissioner of the Ontario Provincial Police, to invite you, your family and friends to visit your local OPP Detachment and meet the men and women who serve you.

Our 185 detachments in the province will be open.

Your policemen will be only too happy to show you these facilities. Feel free to ask any questions you may have.

Editors note: This column was written on May 3.

The possibility that a federal general election might be called before the end of the Summer is greater now than at any time since the last general election, and the minority Liberal government in Ottawa appears to be ready to back down again in the face of threats from the N.D.P. that they will withdraw their support and topple the government.

A few days ago the N.D.P. leader in the House said that his party was ready to vote with the Conservative Opposition on the government's anti-profiteering legislation, thus forcing an election. However, only time will tell whether or not the latest N.D.P. threat is cut from the same cloth as its previous threats.

In any case, one of two things will happen in the next few days. On the one hand, the government might lose the first vote in this week's budget debates, and in that case the House will have been dissolved by the time this column gets into print. Or, the N.D.P. will back down again, and we could then go on from day to day, as we have been doing for the past sixteen months.

While the members of Parliament, and people in general speculate on when the election will come, Health and Welfare Minister Marc Lalonde continues to use the House of Commons to try to build himself into a national figure. A couple of weeks ago it was football, and this week it is a document on the health of Canadians.

The general health and the physical well-being of Canadians is a very serious matter and one in which each of us has more than just passing interest. I cannot quarrel with the theme of the minister's document, but I can and so take issue with the content of the paper and in the way it has been presented.

A working document tabled in the House of Commons by the government is a very important move, because it is designed to indicate that the government plans to table legislation dealing with the subject of the paper. However, when Mr. Lalonde's document is examined, it is hard to imagine how any legislation can flow from it.

For instance, throughout the paper there are statements like, "It is better to be slim than fat", or, "It is better not to smoke cigarettes". We are all aware that slimness is associated with fitness, but it doesn't necessarily follow. My first reaction to these statements was that the government would do better to ensure that Canadians could afford to eat the proper foods, in adequate amounts, if they are concerned about the health of Canadians.

Elsewhere in the document is the phrase "Tranquility is better than excess stress". No one can quarrel with that. But here again I would suggest that the best way to relieve excess stress in the minds of our people would be for the government to bring inflation under control. And, excess stress among the unemployed could be eased if the government would get the economy moving, encourage business and industrial expansion, and thereby provide new jobs.

When I read the phrase "Alcohol is a danger to health, particularly when driving a car", I have to check to make sure that this is a serious government document that I'm reading from. This is the type of thing that elementary school children write, and when it comes from them I accept it in good faith. When it appears in a working paper tabled in the House of Commons, I have to wonder if it is intended as a put-on.

The minister would do well to direct more funds into medical research in Canada, to ensure that the elderly and disabled are properly cared for, and to urge his cabinet colleagues to restore the buying power of the Canadian dollar. Football debates and petty working papers might be good image builders, but they don't do much for the Canadian public.

Hodgson researches Minden Road

In this year of 1974 it would be of interest to take a look at the early Colonization Roads of Haliburton County in their Centennial year celebrations. With this in mind I have found through research on early Government books and documents the following brief history:-

THE MINDEN ROAD-In the year 1876 we note the following comments in the Report of the Commissioner of Crown Roads, for the year ending December 31st:-This road runs from the Haliburton Road near the Village of Minden in a north-easterly direction, to the Lot No. 10 in the line have been well graded and turnpiked for travel. Expenditure $1,125.69.

In the year 1879 the

comments were as follows:

-MINDEN ROADThis work consists of 6½ miles of the above road from its intersection with the Peterson Road to Gull River crossing between Green and Maple Lakes. The road has been well made. Expenditure $947.45.

In the year 1880 the

-MINDEN ROAD (EAST) - Six miles of this line have been repaired. The work lies between Minden Road proper and the east boundary of Minden Township. Expenditure $394.50.

In the year 1881 the comments were as follows:-MINDEN AND HALIBURTON ROAD - Branches from the Minden Road at its intersection with the road between concessions 4 and 5 of Minden Township. 1½ miles repaired. Expenditure $303.36.

In the year 1883 the comments were as follows:-MINDEN AND STANHOPE ROAD - eight miles repaired from the village of Minden northerly. This is a leading road. Expenditure $303.71. - MINDEN AND HALIBURTON ROAD - This is comprised of two works, one being on the line between the 2nd. and 3rd. concessions of Minden, extending from lot 11 to the east boundary of the township, six miles, and the other in the 5th. concession from lot 24 to the eastern boundary of lot 32 in the 8th. concession, 3½ miles. The whole distance was in each case repaired, making a total of 9½ miles. Expenditure $400.50.

Live bait fishing banned

By J. S. Ball

The downfall of the fishing in many a lake has come through the unfortunate introduction of undesirable fishes to the water during the course of a fishing trip in which bait fish were brought to a lake and escaped, perhaps off the hook while still alive, or over the edge of the bait basket. Numerous fisheries have marked such introductions as the beginning of the end. No longer is natural reproduction successful. No longer do planted fish survive to grace the angler's hook.

To preclude the further spread of this problem in Algonquin Park it has become necessary to place the matter in the Ontario Fishery Regulations. A new regulation which will be greeted by conservationists who have viewed this problem with despair now prohibits the use of bait fish there.

This is of course, far from a new approach since many Ontario waters are already covered by such a rule and many states and provinces restrict the use of bait fish.

Tea held for Red Cross Auxillary

A Membership Tea for the Ladies Auxillary to the Red Cross Hospital, Haliburton, was held at the home of Mrs. Alice Robertson. Mrs. Judy Creelman poured tea. The President, Mrs. Velma Smith, welcomed the 23 ladies and thanked them for coming and explained the roles of the four new groups, knitting, visiting, table favours and Children's Activity packs. The next meeting will be held Tuesday, June 4 in the Hospital Board Room.

Ontario Hydro warns overhead electric wires hazardous to sailors

With the advent of the boating season, Ontario Hydro has issued its annual warning to inland sailors.

"Around marinas, cottages and docking facilities generally, there are overhead electric wires which present hazards when taking boats in or out of the water," said Dr. Don Grant, director of Hydro's Health and Safety division.

"Too often boaters don't take the time to look up and look out for electric wires. These lines provide the necessary electricity to shore line facilities, but if a mast comes in contact with them serious accidents or a fatality can happen."

Dr. Grant said even wooden masts, with metal guy wires and metal stays can cause trouble.

Fluctuating water levels provide another possible hazard. A rise of a foot can put a mast dangerously close to a line.

"Ontario was fortunate the last two years. No accidents or fatalities to boaters were recorded because of overhead lines. However, three fatalities and six accidents were traced to this cause in 1970 and 1971."

Lutterworth road built in 1870's

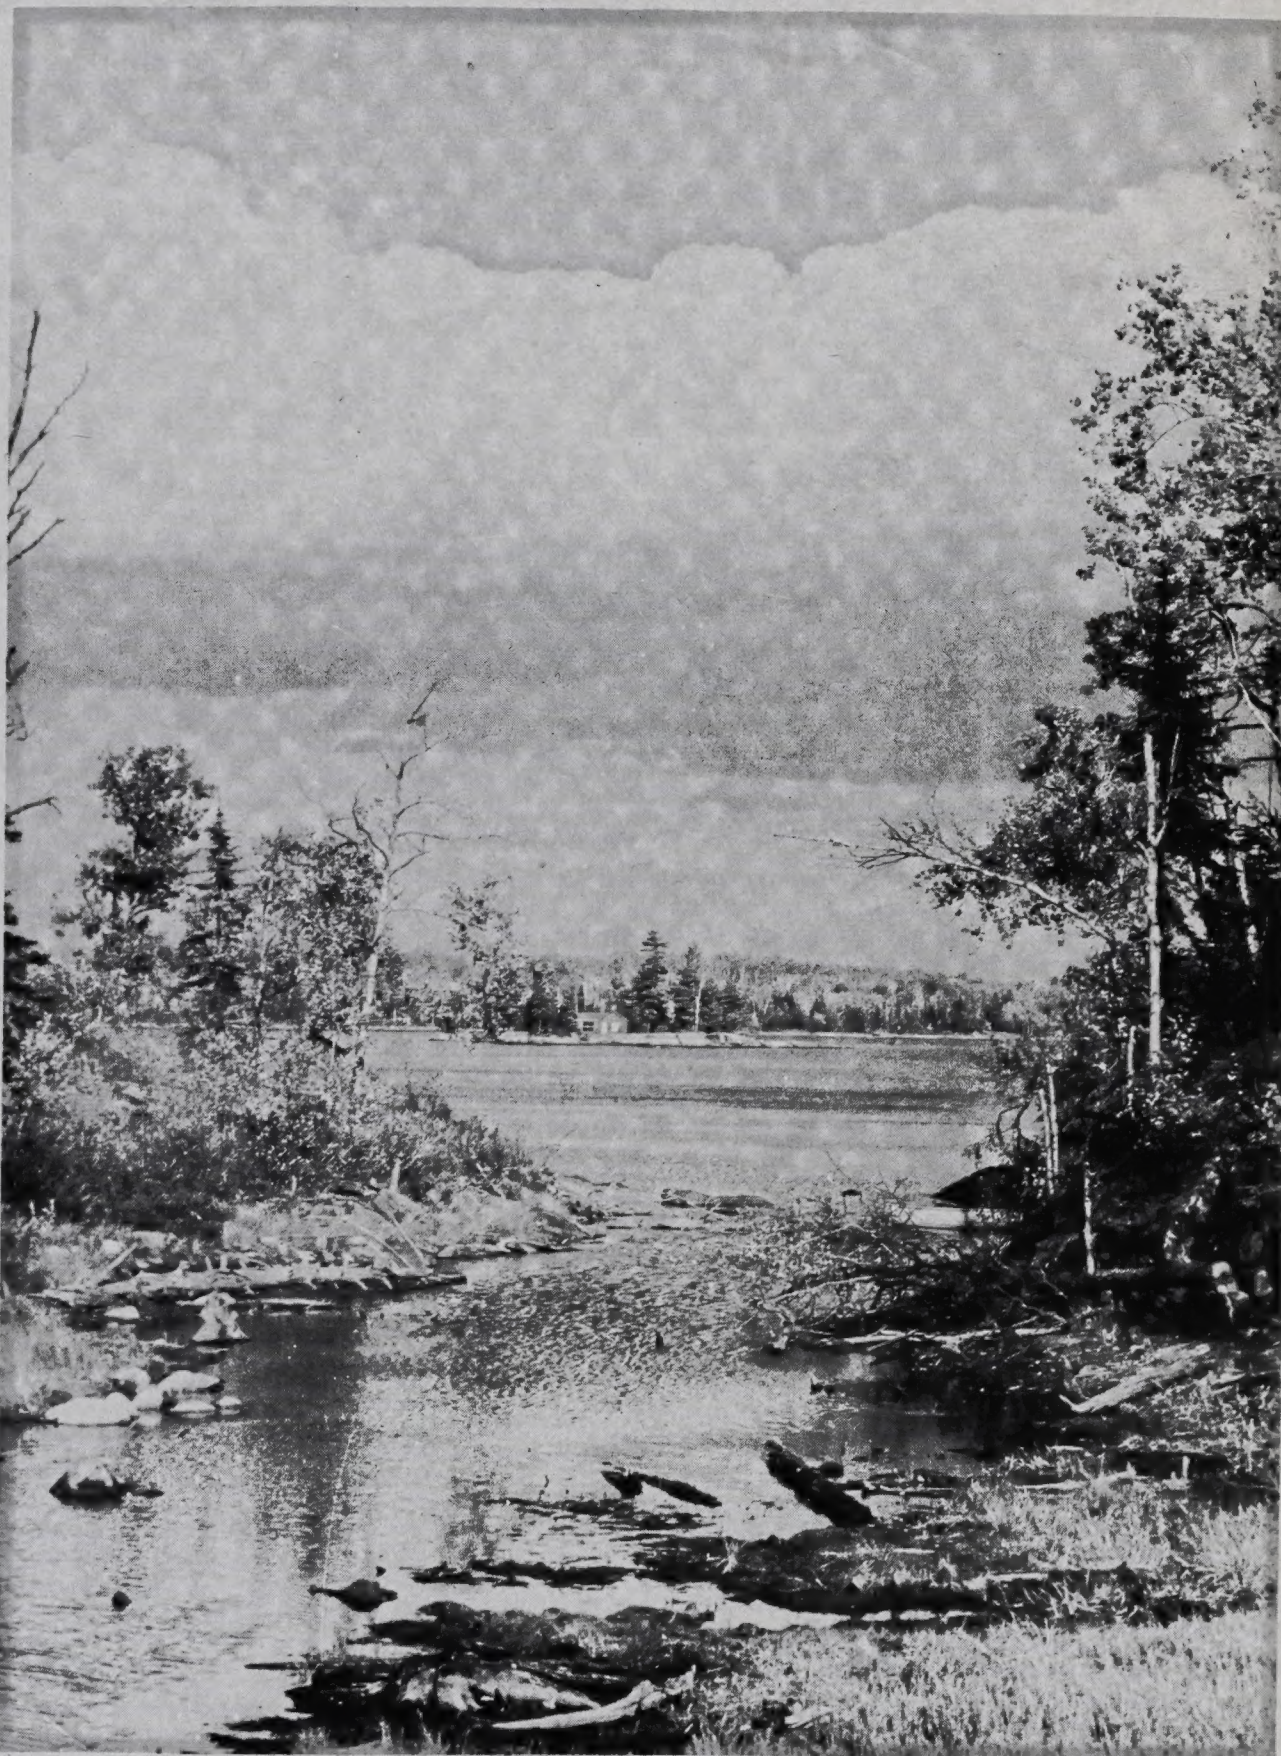

By R Glen Hodgson

In this year of 1974 it would be of interest to take a look at the early Colonization Roads of Haliburton County in their Centennial year celebrations. With this in mind I have found through research on early Government books and documents the following brief history:-

THE LUTTERWORTH ROAD - In the year 1878 the following comments were noted in the Report of the Commissioner of Crown Roads for the year ending December 31st; This is a new cheap settler's road, leading from a settlement on the west side of Gull Lake southward to Moore's Falls on Gull River. The road has been opened as a winter road between the above described points (about 6 miles), and is of essential benefit to the people, by affording direct access to the Cameron Road, and thence by it to Coboconk Village, the terminus of the Toronto and Nipissing Railway. Expenditure on account $490.00.

In the year 1880 the comments were as follows:- LUTTERWORTH ROAD - This may be described generally as lying between the Monck Road about 1½ miles east of the Village of Norland and the Cameron Road, near Gull Lake. Over its length of 8 miles a narrow pass or trail has been opened by the inhabitants. This year it is cut 18 feet wide, and graded in the centre 10 feet wide, thus making it passable for light traffic. Expenditure $405.62.

In the year 1882 the comments were as follows:- LUTTERWORTH ROAD - Some excellent repairs were made over several (8) miles in this instance, the roughest sections of the road being selected for operations. Expenditure $302.07.

Letter to the editor

To the Editor:

How about that! We sure do get behind our local talent! We back them to the hilt! We hire a band from Lindsay for the evening performance at Ontario Place and we have our own High School Glee Club sing a few choruses in the afternoon.

The heartbreaking thing is the lack of faith displayed for our 'own'. Not only did the actors give a fine performance on stage. The talent not even seen in the form of scenery, lighting, costuming and make-up should certainly have equal billing. These young people and the staff of H.H.S.S. have worked hard and long hours to give us a really good show, "The Emerald Isle," the least we can do is show a little appreciation.

For some of these students this is their last year at High School. So let us give them the chance to show the outside what kind of terrific stuff we have in the Highlands of Haliburton.

Very truly yours,
[Mrs.] Pat Burk.

P.S. A lot of people are saying this same thing Well people get on the 'phone, write a letter ----COMMUNICATE!

BILL SMILEY

MY MOVIE CAREER ONCE IS ENOUGH by Bill Smiley

Several items this week, none of them large enough to write a column about, but each of them of such vital importance to the state of the world that they must not be ignored.

Germany: a couple of leftovers. Prostitution is legal there. In Kaiserslautern, there's a rather bleak four-storey building. Probably financed by American aid. It is a (uh, shall we say?) house of ill repute.

In their rude and licentious way, the soldiery call it, "Four floors of whores", which has a nice echoic ring to it. But what caught my eye, at 11 a.m., was the huge neon sign on top of the building. It read, "SEX MIT heart." The word heart was not spelled out, but represented by a huge, red, Valentine-type heart, in neon. A nice touch.

Another place in the same city was "Harry's". He has a good gimmick, which I'd like to see Eaton's and Simpsons adopt. It is a clip joint for suspecting North Americans. There are no Germans in the place. But you can buy anything from a Hummel figurine to a vast, lousy painting. However, his gimmick getsem. When you walk in the door, you are offered a coke, a coffee, or a beer. And when you leave, you are offered a free gift; comb, nail-file, plastic car-key-holder, something. It's chicken stuff, but it's smart. In a lot of Canadian stores, all you are offered is a slice of cold shoulder.

Trees. The Germans treat their trees as we would roses. They are carefully husbanded — and even wifed — and produce the expectant harvest. They are then cut up as carefully as bread. We whack ours down and burn them.

Not that I'd want to live in Germany. Who wants to live in a country where the trains run on time, and highway signs say something as vulgar as Ausfarten?

MOVIES: Recently I was involved in the making of a movie. I am here to declare, by the grace of God, that I do not now, or ever, want to be a movie star, a supporting actor, or an extra.

You guessed it. I was an extra. Unpaid. I spent a beautiful spring afternoon running up and down hills, shouting, "Get him! Kill him! Hang him!", in a soldier's uniform, and brandishing a stout club.

Why I, as a soldier, was carrying a club, instead of a musket, I don't know, but extras don't question De-Mille, do they?

Trouble was with the movie, that we extras didn't know what the hell was going on. We puffed up and down the hills, got slapped in the eye by willow switches, and jumped over logs, waving our clubs menacingly. It was pretty exciting. The first time.

Then we did it over and over again, because someone had forgotten to take off the sun-glasses, or the watch. It was a period piece, and the beer cans and coke bottles didn't fit into the 19th century milieu.

Must admire the cameraman, though. He climbed about forty feet into a tree, to take "down" shots of us idiots running through the woods, yelling, "Kill him! Get Him!", and such. Then he lay under a log, shooting up, getting crotch shots and feet shots as we did the same thing. Then he waded into a river (in April) and did the same thing. Finally, he ran backwards with a hand camera while we raced (or stumbled) toward him, shouting the same stuff.

He tripped a couple of times over trees cut down with a 1974 chain saw.

Biggest problem was not to laugh during shooting (as we call it).

There is something eminently hilarious about a collection of middle-aged people, some of them with hernias and heart attacks, walking back up a hill, for the fifth time, in order to come running down it again, because some silly ass had cried, in the excitement, "Go get him, Mike!", instead of "Kill! Kill!" and the sound man had picked up the modern expression.

DEPRESSION: Not the psychiatric kind, the economic kind. I feel it in my bones. There's a big depression coming. Jolly good, is what I say. We haven't had a decent depression in this country for years.

There's almost a desire for one. The kids, of course, don't even know what one is. Heard a girl say today to another, "Vu gotny money?" The other replied, "Yabudy. Yabudy godda-getsum cigrets." Priorities.

But the old folks now. In fact, they almost have a nostalgia for it. They brag about it. Lumpy porridge instead of Krinkly Krunchies. Hamburger, two pounds for two-bits. Mailmen working and danged glad to have a job. Railwaymen ditto.

There are books, "Ten Lost Years", and plays dramatizing the Depression. And it was dramatic. I was there. For the ten Lost Years. And I didn't feel they were lost. Ask anyone. If you can find him. Or her?

Victoria - Haliburton Deanery Meeting

The spring meeting of the Great Chapter of Victoria-Haliburton Deanery, was held recently.

Dinner was served by Christ Church ACW to 86 members and friends.

Head table guests were John Martin, chairman; Francis Whitmore, secretary-treasurer of St. Paul's, Beaverton; Kenneth Johnson, St. Paul's, Lindsay; Rev. Rowland Sims, rector of Bridgenorth - Omemee; Rev. Ronald LaMarch, Rural Dean, Fenelon Falls and the guest of honor, Rt. Rev. Lewis Garnsworthy, Bishop of Toronto.

Others present were Rev. Canon David Crane, rector of St. Simon's Church, Toronto, Rev. Andy Hutchinson, of Minden; Rev. D. Craig, Kinmount; Rev. A. Samis, ACW deanery officer, Cannington; Mrs. John Martin, Mrs. Kenneth Johnson and representatives from the deanery parishes.

Following a short business meeting, the Bishop was introduced by Mr. Johnson and he spoke of the goals set by the Diocese and the difficulties in attaining them. Among those mentioned were increased responsibilities of lay people; better stipends for clergy, and availability of christian education material, for parents.

Lay readers, John Joyce of Omemee and John Ewing of Bridgenorth, conducted a service of evening prayer, preceding the meeting.

Spring waters hungry

By Claude Poisson

Lakes, rivers, creeks and local ponds are treacherous and hungry at this time of year, the Ontario Safety League warned today.

Strong and Fast

They want victims and they are preparing accordingly. In central and southern Ontario, waters that were safe enough to wade in last summer are now overflowing to unpredictable levels. They develop strong and fast currents, transforming their beds and banks into muddy death traps. Creeks and ponds are giving themselves a tempting appearance of refreshing coolness, sparkling and glittering under the sun. Children are hypnotized by such enchantment and feel invited to come closer and to hear the waters' bubly music.

Deadly Cold

More swimmers and fishermen are killed during the cold water months than over the whole summer season. Children are easy prey. Warn them away! Don't let the sunny weather lure anyone. Spring water is cold, deadly cold. Within minutes, it numbs and paralyzes the best swimmers.

Use Authority

Don't feed your children to the hungry spring monsters. Use your authority without reserve or guilt: Spring water and ice must remain out of bounds for all children!

4,000 NEW GRAIN CARS

The Minister responsible for the Canadian Wheat Board, Otto Lang, announced that the federal government has ordered 4,000 hopper cars at a cost of more than $100 million to help establish a first-class grain-moving operation in Canada.

Mr. Lang said this latest move is in keeping with a commitment made by Prime Minister Trudeau and by Transport Minister Jean Marchand last summer in Calgary at the Western Economic Opportunities Conference.

The federal government will also pay half the cost of repairing 2,400 boxcars to be returned to Western grain service.

FISHING REDUCTION

Canada will ask the Government of the Soviet Union to cut back its fishing operations in the Gulf of Alaska to prevent further depletion of already low halibut stocks.

"The halibut stocks are already in a sorry state," Fisheries Minister Jack Davis said. "The blame lies with the foreign fishing fleets, especially that of the Soviet Union."

Continued concentrated fishing in the area will adversely affect the catches of Canadian fishermen when the season opens May 17.

GALLUP POLL

The latest Gallup Poll conducted at the beginning of March shows both the Liberals and the NDP parties with the same popular support obtained in 1972, while the Progressive Conservatives and other parties are within one percentage point of their election standing.

	Election 1972	April 1974
Liberals	39	39

ONTARIO LIBERALS MEET

Ontario Liberals will be in Sudbury on April 26-28 for the first Annual Meeting of the Ontario Liberal Party to be held in the Northern region.

Prime Minister Trudeau and the Cabinet have been invited to attend the meeting.

JAPANESE PM TO VISIT

Prime Minister Kekuei Tanaka of Japan has accepted an invitation to visit Canada.

BUDGET '74

Finance Minister John Turner tabled the Liberal Government's budget in the House of Commons last Monday.

The Minister said the budget helps raise revenue where it hurts least and distributes it where it helps most. The budget's ultimate purpose is to provide lower and middle income Canadians with more money.

The budget provides increased tax exemptions for lower-income taxpayers; it removes the 12% federal sales tax from all clothing and footwear; it eliminates the sales tax from bicycles, buses and other municipal transit equipment; and it proposes a new plan to allow tax-free accumulation of savings for the first time purchasers of homes and their initial furnishing.

CABINET DEFENDS BILL

The Liberal Government defended its anti-profiteering legislation in the face of the NDP's open rejection of the bill.

Regional Economic Expansion Minister Don Jamieson accused the New Democratic Party - "You don't want this bill passed by this House because you will have to give us credit for doing something about profiteering."

External Affairs Minister Mitchell Sharp told the House of Commons that the purpose of the bill is to deal with profiteering and gouging. He said the opposition parties are simply opposing the bill without any good reasons and he called their attitude "hypocritical".

PETRO-CAN

A bill to establish a national petroleum company - to be known as Petro-Can - was introduced in the House of Commons by Energy Minister Donald Macdonald.

Its main purpose will be to explore and develop further energy sources for Canadians, primarily oil and gas. The creation of Petro-Can will also give the government a greater expertise in this field through its own company.

TRUDEAU - BETTER PM

A Gallup Poll, taken in the first week of March, showed that twice as many Canadians feel that Pierre Elliott Trudeau would make the best Prime Minister of Canada than would Robert Stanfield.

Mr. Trudeau was selected by 46% of the vote as compared with 22% who selected Progressive Conservative Leader Robert Stanfield.

Food Facts and Fallacies

Here are 12 more questions and answers for FOOD FACTS & FALLACIES. (A public service of The Ontario Dietetic Association)

Q. WHY DO HOME CANNED PEACHES DARKEN AT THE TOP OF THE SEALER?

A. If fruit is not sufficiently cooked, enzymes will oxidize the fruit causing darkening and change in flavour and texture. Longer processing - 5-15 minutes - to destroy enzymes is the best preventative, and removing air bubbles may help. Ascorbic acid (vitamin C) will also help, and adds to the nutritive value.

Q. HOW CAN LOSS OF COLOUR IN HOME CANNED RASPBERRIES AND STRAWBERRIES BE AVOIDED?

A. Fading can be partly prevented by storing in a dark place or wrapping in newspaper. Avoid over-processing, but be sure to process long enough that enzyme action is prevented. Some varieties will fade more than others.

WHY DO HOME CANNED PLUMS FLOAT TO THE TOP OF THE SEALER?

A. It is the result of too much air in the cells of the food. The use of the hot pack method, by which the fruit is pre-cooked, will help prevent it. Too heavy a syrup is another cause.

Q. WHEN MAKING PICKLES, WHAT CAUSES SHRIVELLED PICKLES?

A. Pickle recipes call for the addition of sugar gradually, or for boiling on several days. If the cucumbers are placed immediately in a concentrated sugar solution this shrivelling is likely to occur. Too strong a brine may also cause this.

Q. WHAT CAUSES PICKLES TO DARKEN?

A. Pickle recipes call for pickling salt which is salt without iodine or materials to keep the salt dry; these may darken pickles. Iron utensils will discolour pickles; use aluminum or enamel kettles and wooden spoons.

Q. HOW COULD EGGS BE FROZEN?

A. Pack eggs in quantity needed for a single use in small cellophane bags, heat seal and pack in a carton. Whole egg or egg yolk should be beaten slightly; egg white can be packed without beating and beaten like fresh egg white when thawed. To defrost, leave in a warm room 2 hours, or place an envelope of egg in a bowl of warm water for 30 minutes.

Q. WHEN MAKING APPLE OR GRAPE JELLY, WHAT WOULD CAUSE CLOUDY JELLY?

A. The bag used for straining fruit was too coarse or was squeezed while dripping. If the jelly begins to set before it is poured into glasses, bubbles of air could spoil clarity. If apples were too green clouding may occur because of starch content of green fruit.

Q. WHY WOULD CRYSTALS FORM IN GRAPE JELLY?

A. Crystals of tartaric acid form, but can be avoided by allowing the juice to stand in the refrigerator overnight, then carefully pouring it away from the sediment which collects.

Q. WHAT IS THE DIFFERENCE BETWEEN TRUE BUTTERMILK AND CULTURED BUTTERMILK?

A. Buttermilk is the product that remains when fat is removed from milk or cream, sweet or sour, in the process of churning. It usually contains about 8.5 percent milk solids and is not generally available on the retail market. Cultured buttermilk is the soured product obtained by treating pasteurized skimmed or partially skimmed milk by means of a culture of lactic acid bacteria. It usually contains 8.5 percent milk solids and is generally available on the retail market.

Q. I AM ON A LOW CARBOHYDRATE DIET AND WOULD LIKE TO KNOW THE CARBOHYDRATE CONTENT OF SUNFLOWER SEEDS?

A. A 3 1/2 ounce package of shelled kernels has about 20 1/2 carbohydrate content, but with % fat, calories are quite high (560) and protein content about 24%. Therefore total calories are rather high for a weight reduction diet considering nutrient content.

Q. SHOULD I USE BUTTER OR MARGARINE ON A LOW CALORIE DIET?

A. Both have the same calorie value per tsp., but it is the quantity of either that you take which counts.

Q. ON A LOW CALORIE DIET WHAT CAN BE TAKEN FOR SNACKS WHEN HUNGRY?

A. for nibbling when hungry, keep a bowl in the refrigerator with celery sticks, cucumber, radishes, lettuce, carrot sticks or any combination of them you like as they are all low in calories.

Business development means more jobs and increased opportunities.

This is what Ontario is doing to help businesses grow.

Suppose you operate a manufacturing company, or a firm that is a supplier to such a manufacturer. Suppose that you operate a tourist resort, or a tourist attraction that benefits local resorts.

Others depend on you for a living. So your Ontario government wants to help you help them... and yourself... through the Eastern Ontario Development Corporation (EODC).

The EODC was established by the government here in Ontario to provide financial assistance to businesses unable to obtain necessary funds... from conventional lending institutions. These programs are designed to stimulate industrial growth, encourage economic development and increase employment opportunities in Eastern Ontario.

Similar programs exist to aid businesses in other parts of the Province. Briefly, EODC Financial Assistance programs are divided into two categories - Incentive Loans and Term Loans.

In Eastern Ontario, Incentive Loans of up to 75% of approved costs, to a maximum of $1,000,000, are provided for new manufacturing operations or service industries in support of manufacturing.

These loans may be interest-free or at a rate lower than the EODC prevailing rate of interest. Commencement of repayment may be deferred until the company is established.

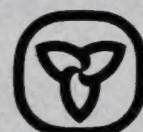

Term Loans are available to finance new products and processes, exports, pollution-control equipment, industrial buildings, tourist operations and the expansion of small businesses.

Your Ontario government has prepared a concise, easy-to-understand booklet explaining who may qualify for EODC Financial Services.

If you would like a copy of the booklet, or wish to make application for EODC assistance, call, write or visit

Talking to wolves

by John Macfie
Fish & Wildlife Supervisor

The art of calling game to the gun, widely known among moose and waterfowl hunters, also works with wolves. Charlie Wager of Oranmore in central Parry Sound District will attest to that fact.

Charlie has been employed by the Ministry of Natural Resources this winter on a deer range management job in the large Oranmore deer yard, overseeing a crew of men cutting trees to improve winter food supplies, and controlling predators. One afternoon late in March, while laying out some work for his men, he encountered the fresh trail of a timber wolf pack. Charlie's imitation of a howling wolf drew an answering howl, and in a few minutes three of the animals came trotting toward him, one of which he shot. Later in the day he again made contact with the pack and lured a single animal within sight, but not shooting range.

It wasn't just luck, for Charlie has bagged several wolves this way over the years. He picks a sparsely treed swamp or marsh in a tract of forest which a wolf pack is known to be frequenting, to do his calling - and waiting. In winter is can be a chilling - in more than one sense - experience, but for suspense and a feeling of accomplishments it probably beats potting a called-in mallard.

One need not be a hunter to indulge in wolf-howling. A growing number of people go into the Ontario forest to attempt to "talk to" wolves merely for the satisfaction of communicating with, and just possible sighting, this supreme symbol of wildness.

Public Announcement

The Canadian Radio-Television Commission announces the following decisions effective March 31, 1974.

Decision CRTC 74-70

LICENCE RENEWALS AND CONDITIONS
Applications by the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation for renewal of its AM, FM, LPRT and television broadcasting licences:

It is evident that there is an increasingly widespread interest and concern of the public with the performance of individual CBC stations across the country.

It is obvious that a single public hearing cannot give in-depth consideration to the fundamental policy issues involved in licensing the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation to provide the national broadcasting service and at the same time deal effectively with the service provided by such important stations as, for instance, Vancouver, Halifax, Montreal, and Winnipeg.

Consequently, in order to respond to regional and local interest and participation, the Commission has adopted a new method for determining terms of licences. Stations in the same region will be given similar expiry dates for their terms of licences which will enable the Commission to consider renewal of these licences at the same time as renewal of other licences in the same region and to review periodically all broadcasting services on regional basis.

The following AM, FM, LPRT, radio and television broadcasting licences are renewed for the terms and subject to the conditions set out below:

AM and LPRT RADIO licences:

March 31, 1977

CBLV Haliburton, Ont.

The AM, FM and LPRT RADIO licences are subject to the following proposed condition:

Commencing January 1, 1975, the licensee shall not broadcast commercial messages except in programs which are only available to the licensee on a sponsored basis.

As used herein, the term "commercial message" has the same meaning as set out in the Radio (FM) Broadcasting Regulations.

Director-General of Licensing.

Wild Mustard

When writing of this dad said, "Write that if a mouse fell in the cream, you kept the butter for your own use." This comment was not appreciated by Mom!

Mother was always considered to be "the best bread maker", and anytime anyone had to borrow a loaf of bread, it was always mother's bread that was borrowed. The bread, when next the lady baked was always returned, and this we kids did not appreciate. We did not like anyone's bread but mom's, nor did we care to eat in very many places except home. Perhaps this was a result of what Grandma Roberts used to call "mom's fanatic cleanliness". This fanatic cleanliness proved a source of embarrassment for her one day. She had scrubbed the wide pine boards of the verandah, until they were snow white, and had gone back inside the house. Somehow the hens had got through the chicken wire, and made their way down to the house, and of course up on the verandah. Suddenly out the door comes Mom, broom in hand, yelling "Hen shit, hen shit, all over my nice clean floor, nothing but hen shit". A quiet voice behind her says, "Good morning Mrs. Roberts". When she turned to look, there stood a Salvation Army officer, Capt. Clark Ferris, who often came to call and hold service in the little school house. Many years have passed since, but we still tease mom with, hen shit, hen shit.

Our farm took in one hundred acres of land, the school property came off this, and also the property where the old community hall stood. We went to school in a one-room schoolhouse, where the teacher taught grades from one, to the second year of high school. The teacher "boarded" with one family or another during the school term. Outside the school grew a cluster of gnarled old cedars, and it was a source of great enjoyment to become expert at swinging through the branches like Tarzan, without ever touching the ground.

Our orchard had a variety of apple trees. Large sweet crabs, which Mom would cook whole, with cloves. Harvest apples, Mac's, Wolf river's, and a tree of "greenings, a large apple was watery under the skin, delicious to eat or cook, and would keep well all winter. Our basement in the fall held barrels of apples. We also had ripe tomatoes well into winter. Mom would pick them while still green, wrap them in paper and store them in the cool dark of the basement. As they were needed, she brought them up into the warm air, and placed them in the sun to ripen. They tasted like they were picked fresh from the vines. A far cry from the hothouse tomatoes bought from the supermarket today.

One of the chief delights of childhood was going to the sugar bush with Dad, in the early spring. Dad would boil the maple syrup in the bush, and when it was "just right", he would spread some of the syrup on the snow, to make taffy. People travel miles today, to find places to eat outdoors on picnic tables. For us, every day in summer could be picnic day. The huge old maple, on our front lawn, made a lovely spot. Out in the orchard when the blossoms came, their sweet scent filled the air, or on the little knoll, where the cosmos flowers grew. So many beautiful spots, without leaving our door yard.

One of the big occasions during winter, were the Christmas concerts in Harburn. People would come from miles away. The whole community would join in. It was not just a school affair, the adults played a part as well. Mother was always in demand to sing. Also Harold Bowen, son of our neighbours, Mr. and Mrs. John Bowen. The evening would always include dancing, and a basket social. Anyone out town would be asked "When are you people in Harburn having your Christmas concert?"

Christmas was a wonderful time on the farm. Dad would take the axe, and all of us big enough to walk. Bundled up in snowsuits off we would go, to choose the tree. A big one it had to be, so tall it touched the ceiling. We did not have electric lights, for our tree, but we had yards and yards of thick tinsel rope, the kind you never seem to be able to buy anymore, and decorations of all description. Some we made, from old Christmas cards. I remember how angry we were at Dad, one Christmas Eve. He had been out to the barn, finishing up the chores. Coming back in, he remarked "Well, I see the old lad (Santa) is around already tonight". Of course we all started a chorus of "How do you know Daddy, how can you tell?" "Well", answered there's two pee holes in the snow, back of the house". Oh how horrified we children were, to think that Dad would say a mean thing like that, about Santa Claus!

Cultivating the fields, on the farm, was done by one man and horses. No tractors or modern machinery. The planting of crops was done by hand, also the pulling of weeds, as we children found out. Dad had a field of oats planted, and one of our tasks was to pull the wild mustard weed, out of the oat crop. This had to be done, otherwise the weed would soon choke everything else out. We hated pulling the weed because it was so hard to pull, the stem was very hard and grew tall. It seemed to grow up again almost overnight, (at least we swore it did.)

COUNTY ECHO

Haliburton and District Association for the Mentally Retarded

By Ed Johnston

By the time you read this report, the Flowers of Hope Campaign Drive for the Trainees at Lakeview Centre will be off and running.

Our Objective, $2000.00. Day by day progress will be recorded on the Goal Thermometer on display in the window of Pollards Store, Haliburton.

Last Thursday morning, Mr. Rouble, Principal, Haliburton High School, graciously allowed me as publicity chairman, the time to present our need to the Grades 11, 12 and 13 students.

At the close of my narration, a plea went forth for 50 volunteer canvassers to cover the area for us.

Right on the button 50 students remained behind to express their willingness to help, as publicity chairman I would like to extend my thanks to Mr. Rouble and the students who gave quiet, attentive reception to the appeal that I was there to present.

Judging by the respect and interest as the appeal went forth, it was obvious that our needs were unknown and many were under the impression that all our needs were met by Government Grants.

Unfortunately this is the idea held by many of the adults and probably was brought about when the Board of Education assumed responsibility for the children in the Schools for the Retarded. However when the Retarded Child has reached the age of 21 they enter the Workshop or commonly known now as A.R.C. Industries and this becomes a different ball game.

During the coming weeks it is our intention to up-date the education of the general public as to what ARC Industries is all about the latest information available regarding the training of our young adults.

Pamphlets, movies and talks at various clubs, church groups and schools will do much to change rumors and speculations into facts that everyone can understand.

A further report will appear in next week's paper and I sincerely hope we shall be able to announce that our Campaign went over the top.

Before closing, I wish to correct an oversight in my letter of last week. On our new executive we have a hard working Ways and Means Committee under the leadership of Mr. Ross Anderson of Tory Hill. Ross and his wife have negotiated the purchase, at cost, a Color Television Set from Agnew's Store in Wilberforce.

Ticket for an opportunity to win this beautiful set are ready and available.

They will be making their appearance in local and area stores. Would you like a Color T. V. for $1.00, someone will get a bargain. Thank you, Mr. and Mrs. Anderson and Agnew's Store for making this possible.

New program in the Arts conservation field

Sir Sandford Fleming College has received Ontario government approval to offer a unique three-year program leading to careers in the art conservation field.

Andrew Aarons, fine arts co-ordinator at Sir Sandford, said the new program will equip graduates for work in the restoration and preservation of documents, maps, rare books, artifacts, antiquities, and textiles, as well as works of art.

"The program is designed to fill a real need in Canada for people with this kind of training, and employment exists with many organizations ranging from museums and art galleries to private businesses," Mr. Aarons said.

The program was formed with the advice of experts from the Canadian Guild of Crafts, Ontario; the Royal Ontario Museum; the Art Gallery of Hamilton; Queens University; the Cobourg Art Gallery; and the Canadian Conservation Institute, National Museums of Canada.

An unusual feature of the program, which is limited to 15 students in the first semester, will be full-time field practice in a final year, when students will work under the direct supervision of a qualified conservator.

This is in addition to a number of field trips that will be conducted during the second year to visit various conservation laboratories in Ontario.

Classroom work will include arts-oriented subjects such as history of the arts, painting, media of art history, printmaking and sculpture, along with technical courses in general and analytical chemistry, applied and technical photography, model building, physical measurements, and chemistry of woods, metals, textiles, glazes and varnishes.

Mr. Aarons pointed out that graduates will spend a minimum of two years working as an apprentice with a conservator before becoming recognized as qualified conservator technicians.

Art conservation is the second unique arts-oriented program now offered by Sir Sandford Fleming College.

A two-year fine arts administration program began three years ago with the purpose of preparing students to work in many fields peripheral to the visual and performing arts, including business management in little theatre or art summer schools, stage management, set construction, lighting, museum display, and model making.

Manpower Statistics

As employment conditions continued to improve in the area, the Peterborough Canada Manpower Centre placed 336 persons in regular employment during April, 1974 compared with 225 in March, and slightly more than the 322 recorded in April 1973, reports Dick Kenzie, the manager.

There were 4037 persons registered with the Canada Manpower Centre as unemployed and seeking work at the end of April compared to 3930 one year ago, said Mr. Kenzie, although a shortage of workers willing to accept service related jobs continues to exist.

During the month five persons relocated to jobs in other areas with assistance under the Canada Manpower Mobility Program while some 14 other workers were transferred to jobs in mining communities at company expense; 11 clients were also given grants to seek work in other areas.

Fifty-five persons commenced training at Sir Sandford Fleming College during the month under review, and will receive training allowances from the Canada Manpower Centre. These included 15 apprentice hair dressers, 23 persons enrolled in skill courses ranging from business and commerce training to machine shop practise, turret lathe operating and welder fitter. In addition 17 persons started basic training to upgrade themselves prior to taking a skill course, Mr. Kenzie concluded.

Evinrude 70: More Performance on Less Fuel

On the surface, this new Evinrude 70 looks a lot like last year's 65. Small. Sleek. Strong. But more hustle's been added inside. Higher compression. New super-sophisticated exhaust tuning. Better engine breathing.

The result: Five more horses. More muscle in the mid-range. More performance at the top end. All accomplished with loop-charged efficiency that gives you even more miles to the hour and more go to the gallon than last year's economy champ, the Triumph 65.

This motor will handle any boating activity efficiently. The economical 70. Another great Triumph, from Evinrude.

See the Loop-Charged Evinrude 70 and 50 hp models, and the 40 and 25 hp models at your Evinrude dealer.

Every Evinrude for '74 is designed to conserve energy by recycling unburnt fuel into additional power. And because every Evinrude is drainless, we're keeping our waters clean too!

Residents received certificates

A total of 43 Peterborough, Cobourg, Lindsay and area residents this year received certificates at various levels in the business, general arts and science, law enforcement and technical fields through continuing education evening programs at Sir Sandford Fleming College.

The current programs leads to the same recognition for evening students as those taking day programs on a full-time basis, although College continuing education director Fred Anderson said most evening students begin credit programs because of more direct benefits relating to increased job competence.

Mr. Anderson said students are awarded a basic business certificate when they have completed.

Nine subjects were required for the law enforcement and security administration certificate, while three levels of achievement were recognized in the technical field, each involving seven subjects.

Mr. Anderson explained that business students may specialize in either finance and accounting, marketing, or computer programming, while technical students have five choices, including civil, electrical, electronic, mechanical or industrial.

Basic business administration certificates were awarded to George R. Armstrong, of Peterborough; Richard F. Bowler, Peterborough; Ernest Ferguson, Peterborough; Allan J. Robinson, Peterborough; and Edna K. Rutledge, of Havelock.

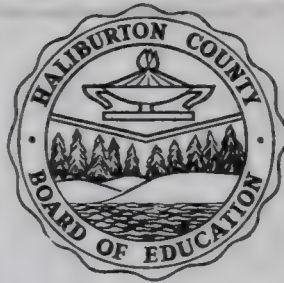

General arts and science basic certificates were earned by Amy B. Bryans, Lindsay; Teresa A. Bowen, Janetville; Ione Hartford, Dunsford; and Barbara Steele, Campbellford.

The law enforcement and security administration certificate was awarded to Constance Fullbrook, of Cannington.

Advanced technical certificates have been awarded to Rocklee Bogseth, Terrance I. Dunford and Raymond J. Willis, all of Peterborough.

Intermediate technical certificates went to Robert G. Carey, Peterborough; George E. Chambers, Peterborough; James A. Lynch, Peterborough; Brian R. Smalley, Peterborough; and Stanley G. Smith, Bridgenorth.

Basic technical certificates were received by 22 residents, including George T. Coit, Peterborough; Warren D. Hope, Keene; Thomas R. Hull, Peterborough; Donald W. Gems of Truth

MORAL GOODNESS

Some years ago in Manchester, England, a side show was staged of a great American cultured pig. It was well cultured indeed, being spotlessly clean, well dressed and it showed unusual intelligence. At the master's command it would pick out alphabets on the floor which spelled "Good Pig", strut around the room on its hind legs and shake hands with its visitors. Here indeed was remarkable intelligence and culture but it was still a pig.

There is possibly no greater error amid humanity than the notion taught and received by many, that culture is the need of the day and the way of salvation. Education and science is crowding out the greatest need of man and our world is reeling in confusion and uncertainty because the need of personal salvation in Christ is scoffed at by the so-called superior intelligence acquired in our day of many schools.

It was to a cultivated, refined, moral, and even religious inquirer that Jesus said, "Except a man be born of water (the Word) and of the Spirit, he cannot enter into the kingdom of God. That which is born of the flesh is flesh; and that which is born of the Spirit is spirit. Marvel not that I said unto thee, ye must be born again". John 3:5-7.

Here indeed is the answer to the problems of our day. Once-born man has not been able to bring the desired peace and security so much longed for. It does not take a very keen mind to see that culture has completely failed to achieve it simply because the need for a changed heart and mind has been bypassed. No wonder that Jesus stressed the "Must" of His statement to Nicodemus. Being born again is God's way of cleaning up the mind and life of all who are humble enough to ask Him for that new birth.

SCRIPTURE MEDITATION:

"Because the carnal mind is enmity against God: for it is not subject to the law of God, neither indeed can be." Romans 8:7

FOOD FOR THOUGHT:

"Culture may refine but salvation realigns".

In Memoriam

LITTLE-In loving memory of Patricia Lynn who passed away May 14, 1966.

Several lonely years have passed Since you were called away. And what it meant to lose you, For life is not the same. Dearly loved and always remembered by Father, Mother, sister, brothers, Mr. and Mrs. Holly Little and family.

LITTLE-In loving memory of our dear son and brother Dean Robert, who passed away May 16, 1971

We had a son with a heart of gold Who was more to us than wealth untold; Without farewell he fell asleep With only memories for us to keep. Ever remembered by Mom and Dad, Harry and Beverly, Dwight and Colleen.

In Memoriam

PALMER-In loving memory of Mildred Palmer who passed away May 18, 1970. Though her smile is gone forever, And her hand I cannot touch, Still I have so many memories Of the one I loved so much. Her memory is my Keepsake With which I'll never part. God has her in His keeping, I have her in my heart. Sadly missed by Fred Palmer and Ruth and Clarence Bain.

PALMER-In loving memory of a dear Mother and Grandmother, Mildred Palmer, who passed away on May 18, 1970.

Beautiful memories are wonderful things, They last till the longest day. They never wear out, they never get lost, And can never be given away.

To some you be forgotten, To others a part of the past. But for us who loved you and lost you, Your memory will always last.

Too dearly loved to ever be forgotten, by daughter Ruth, son-in-law Clarence, and grandchildren.

Thank-You
